

ROB RUDEWICZ

DRUMS

Rob has carried a deep love for music for as long as he can remember, but his journey behind the kit was officially sparked in 2020, when he made the decision that it was now or never. Since then, he's never looked back.

Inspired by the feel of Jeff Porcaro and the soulful fire of The Allman Brothers, Stevie Ray Vaughan, The Marshall Tucker Band, and the timeless pulse of Motown, Rob brings a blend of classic rock swagger and soul-rooted rhythm to Junction 41. His drumming anchors the band's sound with pocket, power, and purpose—always serving the song and the audience.

Rob and his wife, Kerri O'Brien (lead vocals) run the business side of Junction 41, shaping the band's vision, brand, and path forward together. Passion-driven, family-powered, Rob brings dedication and heart to every performance.
